This is in response to request for amendments filed 02/17/04.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 02/17/04 has been entered.

1. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

2. Claims 1, 2, 4-13, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Wu (U.S 5991756).

Regarding claims 1 and 21, Wu discloses: A method and a computer program for performing a category search to identify categories of items that relate to a search term, the method comprising:

receiving at least one search term, wherein the search term includes at least one search term word (col. 6, lines 51-62, Wu); comparing the search term with a hierarchy of category identifiers to determine whether matches exist, wherein comparing the search term with the hierarchy of category identifiers includes comparing the search term word with one or more words in the hierarchy of category identifiers (col. 6, lines 63 to col. 7, lines 23, Wu);

identifying at least one matching category identifier based on the matches that are determined to exist between the search term word and the words of the hierarchy of category identifiers (col. 6, lines 63 to col. 7, lines 23, Wu);

comparing the search term word with terms related to one or more categories to determine whether matches exist (col. 6, lines 63 to col. 7, lines 23, Wu), wherein the terms related to one or more categories include a name and a description of a web site corresponding to category (col. 5, lines 46-62, Wu);

identifying at least one matching category identifier based on the matches that are determined to exist between the search term word and the terms related to one or more categories (col. 7, lines 42 to col. 8, lines 5, Wu);

displaying the matching category identifiers (fig. 5 and corresponding text, Wu).

Regarding claim 2, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 1. In addition, Wu discloses: receiving at least one search term comprises:

receiving several search terms (col. 3, lines 24-44, Wu), and grouping the search terms received as a single string (col. 6, lines 51-62, Wu); comparing the search term with the hierarchy of category identifiers comprises comparing the single string of search terms with the hierarchy of category identifiers to determine whether matches exist (col. 6, lines 51 to col. 7, lines 36, Wu); and comparing the search term with the terms related to one or more categories comprises comparing the single string of search terms with the terms related to one more categories to determine whether matches exist (col. 6, lines 51 to col. 7, lines 5, Wu).

Art Unit: 2171

Regarding claim 4, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 1. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein the hierarchy of category identifiers comprises an ordered list of category names arranged in order from broad categories to narrow categories with the narrowest category being a final category name (col. 5, lines 46-62 and col. 6, lines 31-50, Wu).

Regarding claim 5, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 1. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein displaying at least a category identifier includes communicating at least a category identifier based on the matches that are determined to exist with the hierarchy and the terms (fig. 2 and corresponding text, Wu).

Regarding claim 6, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 1. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein displaying at least a category identifier includes displaying several category identifiers, the method further comprising ranking the category identifiers based on a number of the matches that are determined to exist and at least one of locations and types of the matches (col. 5, lines 46-62 and fig. 5, Wu).

Regarding claim 7, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 6. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein ranking the category identifiers based on the location of the matches includes ranking the category identifiers based on the relative location of the matches within the hierarchy of category identifiers (col. 4, lines 40 col. 5, lines 6, Wu).

Regarding claim 8, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 6. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein the ranking the category identifiers based on the types of the matches includes ranking the category identifiers based on whether the matches occur with at least one of the terms related to one or more categories or with the hierarchy of category identifiers (col. 6, lines 31-62, Wu).

Regarding claims 9 and 11, all the limitations of these claims have been noted in the rejection of claims 8 and 6 above, respectively. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein category identifiers that include matches that occur with both the hierarchy of category identifiers and the terms related to one or more categories are ranked higher than category identifiers that include matches that occur with only one of the hierarchy of category identifiers and the terms related to one or more categories (col. 6, lines 31-50, Wu).

Regarding claim 10, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 6. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein category identifiers that include matches that occur with more than one type are ranked higher than category identifiers that include matches that occur within only one of the types (col. 6, lines 31-50, Wu).

Regarding claim 12, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 6. In addition, Wu disclose: wherein the hierarchy of category identifiers comprises an ordered list of category names arranged in order from broad categories to narrow categories with the narrowest category being a final category name such that category identifiers that include matches that occur with the final category name of the hierarchy of category names are ranked higher than category names that include matches that occur at a location other than the final category name (col. 5, lines 46-62 and col. 6, lines 31-50, Wu).

Regarding claim 13, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 1. In addition, Wu discloses: wherein the items comprise web sites (col. 3, lines 46-62, and fig. 5, Wu).

3. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wu (U.S. 5991756) in view of Snow et al. (U.S. 6055540) (Snow).

Regarding claim 22, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 21 above. However, Wu didn't disclose: wherein the computer readable medium comprises a propagated signal. On the other hand, Snow discloses: wherein the computer readable medium comprises a propagated signal (col. 13, lines 56-57, Snow). Thus, at the time invention was made, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to include a propagated signal in the system of Wu as taught by Snow. The motivation being to enable the user to know the length of time to send and receive the electronic information in the network system.

Art Unit: 2171

Regarding claim 23, all the limitations of this claim have been noted in the rejection of claim 22 above. In addition, Wu/Snow disclose: wherein the propagated signal comprises a carrier wave (col. 13, lines 56-57, Snow).

5. Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 14-20 and 25-36 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record and that encountered while searching for the claimed invention fails to anticipate and/or suggest: a method and a computer program for performing a search to identify items and categories of items that relate to search term, comprising: the matches between the search term and the list of previously received search terms are displayed as a list of related search terms that were entered for previously performed searches as recited in claims 14 and 25.

Regarding claims 15-20 and 26-36, these claims depend from claims 14 and 25 above respectively and are therefore allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
